

Come up with a negative consequence (other people finding out) and place that under the correct column (social). From that consequence, the students will think of other consequences (name calling/social → lowered self-esteem/emotional) that will stem from that initial consequence (other people finding out) and fill it in the correct column. Come up with as many of these consequences as possible.

Negative
Emotional Consequences

-----

Negative
Social Consequences

-----

Negative
Physical Consequences

-----

With all of the negative consequences listed on the front, high school students still choose to be sexual with each other. What are the positive outcomes to ISB? Make sure they are realistic. i.e. boosting your reputation is not a true positive. The only reason your reputation has changed is because you're "putting out" sexually.

Positive
Emotional Outcomes

---

Positive
Social Outcomes

---

Positive
Physical Outcomes

---

REFLECTION:

If the negative consequences outnumber the positive outcomes, why do teens still choose to be sexual with each other?