

Student Book Reviews

You can now write your own book reviews and include them in the RHS Catalog. After reading a book in the RHS Collection, you can share what you think of the book with other students and your teacher. Here is how you can add your Review of a book to the RHS Catalog.

1. Students would log into the RHS Catalog.

NOTE: Username: Student ID#

Password: First 6 letters of last name followed by Day of Birth

2. Do a Title or Author search to locate a book in the RHS Catalog that you have read.

5. Then Click on Add Review

6. Give the book a Star Review as well as your own personal book review. You can recommend or not recommend this book to other students and explain why. No derogatory language will be permitted. Be sure to click on SAVE when you finish writing your review.

7. Once the review has been approved, other students, when searching for a Stephenie Meyer book, will see that Twilight is recommended by another student and will be able to read what the other student thought about the book.

To Faculty: This is great way to incorporate a short writing assignment to accompany your students' reading. Reviews can be written for any item in the RHS Collection, including fiction and nonfiction books, as well as videos or DVD's. There is no limit to the number of reviews that can be written about a book.

Currently, this new feature is set up to allow students to only write reviews of books in the RHS collection and not other school collections in the district.
